COME TO THE ELKS' FREE PICNIC

Progress is still being made for the Elks Free Picnic and children's sports day, which is being held in the Carbon Park on Monday, September 2nd. Everyone attending is asked to fix up a picnic basket and those in town are specially requested to have such hamper ready by one o'clock that day and a truck will call around to the houses and collect these. Those from the country are asked to leave their picnic basket at the rink when they arrive. In this way the committee will be able to have the supper prepared for everyone in the Curling Rink and they hope in this way to avoid the disappointment caused last year, by people saving their baskets and going elsewhere for their supper instead of mingling with their fellow citizens on this occasion. And don't forget to bring your own cup, fork and spoon. Following the picnic the Elks are giving a dance in their new club rooms in the old pool room building and a Calgary Elks orchestra has been engaged to play the music.

HOME NO. 3, 30 MILLION FT. GAS

With a saturation that is believed to be capable of making the biggest naptha well in the Turner Valley, the Home No. 3, just South a few feet from Home No. 1, increased its gas flow during the early part of Monday morning until the official estimate given by J. H. McLeod, production manager of Imperial Oil, Monday night, was 30,000,000 cubic feet.

The well first blew in shortly after 2 o'clock Monday morning with a flow of 18,000,000 cubic feet. About 4 o'clock in the afternoon a sudden roar announced the coming of more chunks of lime and sand, and when another measurement was taken later in the evening, the gauge registered a pressure equal to the 30,000,000 cubic foot flow.

It will in all probability take a couple of days before an estimate can be made of the naptha content of the gas, but opinions of officials would indicate that it is as wet if not wetter than was the flow from Home No. 1 well.—The Calgary Albertan.

REPORT OF DEPARTMENT HIGH SCHOOL EXAMS.

ELKS LEASE OLD POOL ROOM

Some time ago the Carbon Elks made arrangements to lease the old pool room across from C. H. Nash's store and the past week has seen quite a change in the interior of the building, which has been kalsomined and the floor scrubbed clean. It is the intention, we understand, to have this floor waxed and polished and otherwise put in shape so that dances will be able to be held here. The building will be used for club rooms and possibly for a reading and rest room in the winter.

Percentage of successful students in entire high school is 72 per cent.

Remarks—Upon checking up the results it has been found that the students who diligently did the assigned home work and who attended regularly were successful. In many cases the failures can be attributed to lack of interest, to attempting too heavy a course and to errors in written English. It is highly desirable to a student that he get down to work at his home work every evening and be present at school every day if he wishes to achieve success. Parents should co-operate with the principal in selecting the course each pupil requires and in which his interests lie.

When Co-operation Should Prevail

The 1929 crop season in Western Canada would seem to present a rare opportunity for a further development of that spirit of co-operation which has been such a notable and satisfactory feature of Western economic history during the last twenty-five years. Not only is there now opportunity for such further development, but the existing situation undoubtedly calls for the practice to the fullest extent of the principle of co-operation to which tens of thousands of our Western people have devoted their allegiance.

While it may yet be early to predict just what the outcome of this year's harvest operations in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta will disclose, it is now well known that in quantity of grain production there will be an enormous decline as compared with 1928. The quality may be higher, and prices substantially better, and in the final result the amount of money paid to Western grain growers may not fall so greatly below last year's figures, as many have feared and as seemed altogether probable.

But the fact remains that the distribution of crop money will not be nearly so general as in the last few years. Some sections of the West, and the farmers resident therein, will receive more money for their labor than they did a year ago. But, on the other hand, other sections will receive very considerably less, and quite a number of farmers who were forced to plough down their drought stricken fields will receive nothing at all.

Another serious feature of this year's operations is that, whereas in other years of shortage in grain crops, the man engaged in mixed farming had his cattle and dairy products to fall back upon, this year he finds himself in an even more serious predicament than the all-grain farmer, because in the sections most seriously affected, the drought has been so prolonged, and the weather so hot, that the supply of feed is dangerously short.

As a result of the heavy decrease in volume of grain production it has been decided not to run the usual harvesters' excursions from Eastern Canada, not to mention from Great Britain, in the belief that the West itself can supply all the harvest hands required. The introduction of the Combine has operated to reduce the number of harvesters required, while the growing industrialism of the West provides a large number of men who can be drafted to the harvest fields in the fall months. Again, this year, from those sections of partial crop failure, farmers and their sons can be drafted to those sections where help is needed. Also, because of the drop in volume of grain to be moved, the railways will not require as many men as in former years.

Here is where the opportunity for real co-operation presents itself. Farmers requiring harvest help should give first preference to other farmers and their sons who have suffered crop loss. Farmers requiring help, and farmers anxious to secure work, should both lose no time in making their wants known to the nearest Government Employment Office, which will be the agency to bring the two together and thus render valuable service to both.

In like manner farmers having a surplus of feed, and those others who are in dire need of feed, should both make their situation known to their Provincial Departments of Agriculture. It will be to their mutual advantage.

In the third place, many farmers will not even get their seed back this year, and will require to purchase next spring's requirements; on the other hand, many farmers will have an excellent sample of wheat for sale. Here, too, both should make report to their Department of Agriculture. Seed grain can, by such an arrangement, be moved from one district to another at a minimum of expense.

In every community the spirit of true co-operation should prevail. The man who is fortunate this year should find real satisfaction in extending a helping hand to his less fortunate fellow-farmer. No one can tell, but the situation may be exactly reversed in another year. This kind of co-operation may not be quite so spectacular as the big Wheat Pools, but it is equally important, and it is the spirit which will make the Pools strong and permanent and a greater success than has yet been attained. It is the spirit of the West. Cultivate it, encourage it, develop it all along the line.

Wainwright Oil Wells

There are sixteen wells in the Wainwright and Ribstone oil fields at present, of which six are producing to some extent. The wells vary in depth from 200 to 3,489 feet. Preparations are in process for drilling 23 other wells in these districts.

Indigestion

What most people call indigestion is usually excess acid in the stomach. The food has soured. The instant remedy is an alkali which neutralizes acids. But don't use crude helps. Use what your doctor would advise.

The best help is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. For the 50 years since its invention it has remained standard with physicians. You will find nothing else so quick in its effect, so harmless, so efficient.

One tasteless spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in acid. The results are immediate, with no bad after-effects. Once you learn this fact, you will never deal with excess acid in the crude ways. Go learn—now—why this method is supreme.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any drugstore.

New Policy For Fur Traders

Will Establish Experimental Fur Farm At Northern Posts

Northern Traders Limited, operating many fur posts in the Mackenzie River District, has announced a new policy in connection with an expansion programme—at each of the posts the company has made arrangements for the establishment of an experimental fur farm. These will be conducted along scientific lines with the animals being raised in their natural habitat. Foxes of all sorts, mink, fisher, martin, and badger will be among the first to receive attention.

RHEUMATIC PAINS

Cannot Be Rubbed Out — The Trouble Must Be Treated Through the Blood

The pain of rheumatism is something that you cannot rub out. Every sufferer from rheumatism has been advised to rub this or that liniment or oil on the affected part, but after all the rubbing the pain remained. Thin blood and rheumatism come together and if they are properly treated will go together. Anaemia means thin blood, and thin blood is something that can be corrected, so why not build up the blood until the rheumatic poisons are driven out?

This is exactly what is done in the treatment of rheumatism with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Rheumatism in any form shows improvement as the thin blood is built up, and when the poisons in the blood are overcome and driven out rheumatism disappears and does not return so long as the blood is kept rich and red. The great value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the treatment of rheumatism is proved by the case of Mr. Thomas Martin, of Novar, Ont., who says:—"For some years I was so badly troubled with rheumatism that I could hardly walk and suffered great pain. I had medical treatment but did not get much relief. Then I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and after taking the pills for some time the trouble disappeared and has not since shown the least sign of returning."

You can get these pills from your druggist, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Should Be Useful

If beef production is to remain a major branch of agriculture in Canada, it must be stimulated and the artificial obstacles to its progress removed. The new Canadian Council of Beef Producers provides a medium through which much self work may be done, and with 1,000,000 head to market each year, producers should be glad that some organization is prepared to fight their battles.—Farmers Advocate.

Relief From Asthma. Who can describe the complete relief from suffering which follows the use of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy? Who can express the feeling of joy that comes when its soft and gentle influence relieves the tightened, choking air tubes? It has made asthmatic affliction a thing of the past for thousands. It never fails. Good druggists everywhere have sold it for years.

Lethbridge Is Growing

According to Henderson's Directory, Lethbridge now has a population of 14,052, having grown by 2,052 in the past two years, or at the rate of 1,000 annually.

All mothers can put away anxiety regarding their suffering children when they have Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator to give relief. Its effects are sure and lasting.

Co-Operative Poultry Marketing

Manitoba Association Now Has a Membership Of Over 12,000 Farmers

When the Manitoba Co-Operative Marketing Association, Limited, began operation in 1922, the first year's shipments totalled five cars of dressed poultry, 10 cars of live poultry, and 135 cars of eggs to markets in Eastern Canada and the United States. The organization now has a membership of over 12,000 farmers and their wives throughout the Province of Manitoba.

Art Is Universal

Sir Harry Lauder Favorite With People Of All Nations

Sir Harry Lauder, associated with what is declared to be the greatest company of international artists ever offered in conjunction with the famous singing comedian, comes to the Grand Theatre, Regina, Sept. 5 and 6, with matinee on Sept. 6th.

Sir Harry's art is so universal that in the Far East as well as in other sections of the world comprehended in his travels, he attracts thousands of auditors who do not understand the English language, to say nothing of the b-r-r-ing Scottish dialect, and yet seem to enjoy the diversified Lauder programme to the limit. In Western United States and Canada, Indians often form a considerable element in his audiences.

As Lauder is unlike any other entertainer, it is impossible to compare him with any of the other famous amusement stars. His songs are his own, and his method of presenting them is peculiarly Lauderesque.

This season Lauder comes with a repertoire of new songs, which he will offer in addition to the best and most popular of his old favorites, and with special scenic settings to fit each characterization. Some of the newer songs to be given have been popular hits. They include "I'm Lookin' For a Lass Tae Love Me," "Th' Boss O' the Hoose," "Susie Maclean," and others equally characteristic.

Are Easily Satisfied

Natives Of Rennell Island Accept Fish Hooks For Day's Work

An island on which an able-bodied young man is satisfied with five fish hooks for a day's work and a large axe for a fortnight's work, is described in a Colonial Report just issued. This spot is Rennell Island, one of the least known of the Pacific Islands, which was recently the subject of a geological survey. The inhabitants of the island are estimated to number at least 700 and are still untouched by white influence. They are described as "abjectly poor" and practically vegetarians.

The Agent—I forgot to mention that in this country house you're buying there are two very old stained glass windows.

Mr. Newgilt—That won't matter. If they're stained too bad to be cleaned I can put in some new ones.

Salmon Pack Is Showing Better Promise Than Any Year Since 1917

This year the Fraser River is showing splendid promise of coming back as a highly valuable sockeye stream, the pack showing more promise to date this year than any year since 1917, according to the Financial News of Western Canada, which goes on to say, "Steadily the stream has been replenished after the disastrous blocking of Hell's Gate about 15 years ago. Not only are the fish running in quantities larger than for 12 years but they are running earlier."

U. S. CRITICISM OF REPARATIONS PUZZLES BRITAIN

London, Eng. — American newspaper criticism of Rt. Hon. Philip Snowden's attitude at the Hague reparations conference in connection with Britain's heavy financial sacrifices has surprised as much as it has mystified the British people, newspapers and politicians.

They find it difficult to reconcile the United States stand regarding war debts, which is very firm, to the criticism of the British Chancellor of the Exchequer and they suspect there must be a hidden motive.

It is suggested in some quarters that the real reason is to be found in the recent negotiations between Montagu Norman, Governor of the Bank of England, and American bankers, which was founded upon the presumed acceptance by the British Government of the entire Young plan. It is also suggested that Mr. Snowden is aware of this and that therefore his attitude is more adamant than ever.

Hints in American newspapers that Mr. Snowden's stand may make the Anglo-American negotiations on naval disarmament more difficult, has frankly puzzled British officials and the public, who are so strongly behind the chancellor that newspaper offices are being deluged with letters from readers of all political parties praising his attitude.

There is no doubt that if the new Labor Government went to the country tomorrow they would be returned by an overwhelming majority, and the only regret of some shrewd Labor politicians is that the Government is unable to take advantage of a situation that is not likely to arise again during the life of Ramsay MacDonald's cabinet. Even the most die-hard Tories are saying that Mr. Baldwin had adopted an attitude similar to Mr. Snowden's when negotiating the war debt settlement with the United States he would still be prime minister.

Not since the great Disraeli went to the congress at Vienna after the Russo-Turkish war and returned with "peace and honor" has there been such a spontaneous outburst of enthusiasm for a British statesman. This is making it all the more difficult for the British public to understand the American attitude, as revealed by the American press.

Minister Of Railways Steadily Recovering

Hon. C. A. Dunning Will Return To Ottawa At End Of August

Ottawa.—Hon. C. A. Dunning, Minister of Railways and Canals, who is now resting at his farm in Saskatchewan, west of Yorkton, is not expected to return to the capital until the end of the month. ## British Columbia Fire Situation Is Serious

Pacific Coast Province Shrouded In Pall Of Smoke

Vancouver, B.C. — With the whole of the southern interior of British Columbia shrouded in a pall of smoke from a hundred and fifty fires, the fire situation in this province is reported by forestry officials as very critical. All available unemployed men in Nelson and vicinity have been called to fight the outbreaks and additional men recruited in an effort to cope with the situation. So dense is the smoke at Nelson that the forestry seaplane is unable to leave the water on account of the poor visibility.

A serious situation exists at Tunnel, between Grand Forks and Nelson, in the boundary district, where fire fighters are doing their best to subdue the fire raging there, without the aid of water. Fire at Westbridge, also in the boundary district, is out of control. The Sheep Creek outbreak, on the international boundary, is reported under control.

The forest fire situation on the lower mainland and Vancouver Island remains extremely hazardous.

Particularly serious are conditions in the vicinity of Campbell River, Vancouver Island, where fires are menacing large tracts of standing timber.

Chinese Leave Under Bond

Return To China For Trial On Opium Smuggling Charge

San Francisco.—Mr. and Mrs. Ying Kao and Sun Foon, former attaches of the Chinese consulate here, who are under Federal indictment for an alleged attempt to smuggle $600,000 worth of opium into the United States, sailed for China on the liner "Shinyo Maru." They left under bond and with the formal permission of the United States government.

Washington.—Secretary Stimson said that the return of Mr. and Mrs. Ying Kao and Sun Foon, formerly connected with the Chinese Consulate at San Francisco, to China, had been the desire of the Chinese government, and that the prisoners had waived trial in the United States on charges of opium smuggling or complicity.

The government has secured assurances, he said, that the three would be prosecuted by the Chinese government.

Wants Alberta Coal But Price Prohibitive

Manager Of Winnipeg Hydro Finds Price Too High

Winnipeg, Man.—That the price asked for Alberta coal by dealers was forcing him to bring in to Winnipeg, American coal for the city steam heating plant, was the statement made by J. G. Glasco, manager of the Winnipeg Hydro. He declared it appeared likely that the entire coal supply would have to be brought from across the border.

"Canadian dealers are submitting tenders for Alberta coal at $7.90 a ton, as compared with $7.20 quoted for the American product," Mr. Glasco said, adding: "the tragedy is that the coal we want is in Alberta."

At Fedorah, 30 miles north of Edmonton, farmers are reaping from 35 to 50 bushels per acre off new broken land. At Roycroft, in the Peace River country, where Mr. Ostryzulk has a 400 acre farm, the yield is 40 bushels. Leduc, Alberta, reports that the yield in that district will be from 40 to 50 bushels per acre.

Advise Return To Bognor

Better For King George Than Sandringham Say Doctors

London, England.—The Daily News says that King George's doctors had advised him to return to the seaside at Bognor for further recuperation instead of going to Sandringham. His Majesty's favorite country estate. The court encouraged by the improvement in the King's health since his second operation, had planned to go shortly to Sandringham.

The Daily News added that it was feared the King might be tempted to exceed his strength at Sandringham by indulging in grouse shooting of which he is very fond.

This danger would be avoided if he could be persuaded to remain in London for a short time and then go to Bognor for the next few months.

He would stay at Craigwell House, where he was moved from London after his grave illness last winter.

Normal School Course In Saskatchewan Not Lengthened

Regina.—No change has been made in the length of the Normal school course in Saskatchewan according to an official statement issued by the department of education.

From inquiries that are being received at the department, it appears that the impression has got abroad that the normal school course has been lengthened to two years. This is not the case.

The sessions opening on September 4, will continue until June 6, 1930, and students who complete the course satisfactorily will receive interim, second or first class certificates, according to their academic standing.

Building Bigger Liner

Vessel Replacing Oceanic Will Challenge Speed Of Bremen

London, England.—A Belfast dispatch to the Daily News, says, that the keel of the 60,000 ton White Star steamship "Oceanic," to have been the greatest liner of the world, has been completely demolished and plans are being prepared for a new vessel to take up the speed challenge of the new North German Lloyd "Bremen."

The keel was laid last October and was nearly completed when work was ordered stopped on July 23. It was understood that a new ship, to be even greater in length than the 1,000-odd feet originally proposed for the "Oceanic" was to be built.

THOMAS SEEKS OPENINGS HERE FOR UNEMPLOYED

London, Eng. — When Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, Lord Privy Seal and unofficial Minister of Employment, reaches Ottawa, he will emphasize to the Canadian Government that more openings for British labor could be created in the Dominion if British capital and enterprise were utilized more fully to develop Canadian industries, according to the Manchester Guardian.

The newspaper declares that Mr. Thomas wants to carry out the Board of Trade suggestion that British industry might set up manufacturing concerns in Canada, a suggestion that is sometimes referred to as "putting the other leg in the Dominion."

The Guardian also says that Mr. Thomas may stipulate that if a considerable amount of British capital is to be invested in Canadian public works, such as the construction of roads, British labor must be employed. And if the Canadian reply to this is a question as to the fate of the British workers when the roads are completed, Mr. Thomas will answer that in view of the rapid expansion of Canadian industries there would be a reasonable prospect of absorbing such immigrants permanently.

The Guardian, however, thinks there will be no surprise if Mr. Thomas accomplishes less than he hopes.

Pacific Ports Lead In Grain Exports

Taking Trade From U.S. Atlantic Ports, Not Montreal

Vancouver, B.C. — Vancouver and allied Pacific coast ports lead Canada in export of Canadian wheat, according to totals furnished by the Vancouver Merchants' Exchange and computed from official figures compiled by the board of grain commissioners.

Vancouver, New Westminster, Prince Rupert and Victoria shipped a total of 97,000,000 bushels in the 1928-29 season or 26 per cent. of the total Canadian export, while Montreal, Quebec, Halifax and other Atlantic ports combined exports accounted for 92,600,000 bushels of Canadian wheat.

From these figures it is deduced that Vancouver is not cutting in on the trade of Montreal, but is shipping at the expense of United States Atlantic ports, which shipped 67 per cent. of the total in 1921-22 and have since declined to 46 per cent.

The Merchants' Exchange figures do not take into consideration grains other than wheat and shipments of United States wheat through Canadian ports are omitted.

Charged With Arson

Regina Youth Says He Set Fire To Parliament Buildings

Regina, Sask. — Donald Johnston, 22 years old, who confessed a having set fire to the doors of the parliament buildings, has been committed to stand trial on a charge of arson. A confession written by accused was introduced as evidence, in which accused stated that he, with six other men and one woman, had formed an organization and had raised $11,000 for the purpose of starting a newspaper, "The Nationalist," which was to oppose the Gardiner Government, and that the burning of the parliament buildings was to start activities of the organization. The man who held the $11,000, however, had disappeared together with the money. Magistrate Heffernan refused to allow bail, stating that he thought the state of the young man's mind should be looked into.

EXIT THE PESSIMIST

There seems to be considerable pessimism among the farmers and business men of the town and district regarding business and living conditions this coming year, due to the supposed poor crops. This feeling is growing on the people and they are beginning to think that they are going to have hard times this coming season, when in reality there has not been in the past fifteen years what one would call hard times in the Carbon district. True, there will probably be only 75 per cent of the ready cash that there was in the district last year, if not more, but most of the farmers, from which source we seek out our livelihood, have a crop that will carry them through and they will be able to meet their living expenses and that is all that can be asked in a dry year and much more than could be hoped for on such an occasion. But to get back to the supposed hard times for the farmers this year, the grain will probably average from 15 to 20 bushels to the acre and the average grade from recent samples should be about No. 2. This will be a 40 per cent increase over the grade last year and with the price averaging 140 per cent of last year, it can readily be seen that the farmers will not suffer considerably on account of the small yield, and the price and grade less the huge reduction in harvesting operations, will practically put the farmers on even better footing than they were in the Carbon district last year.

As a whole there is no excuse for that pessimistic feeling among the farmers and business men of this district and we feel that things will be on practically an even basis with other years. The only sufferers will be the machine agents and car dealers, with an occasional harvester who has no steady work and no doubt these men will be able to find work in the local coal mines.

I AM THE FLAPPER

I am the feminine idler of a busy age. I am a silk, be-ribboned, perfume soaked bundle of nothing. Although of the same sex and kind as those who have rocked the cradle and ruled the world, I am like them as a broken reed is like a mountain oak. I am a travesty on the womanhood of Edith Cavell, a slur on the name of Josephine, wife of Napoleon. I am as devoid of brain as a thief is of truth, yet I brought Henry VIII his shame and Napoleon his Waterloo. It was my type and kind that flocked as flies around the ulcer that festered in the heart of Rome before its awful fall. With shortened tresses, earmined lips and shapely form, I stand in the market place, seeking him of whom I may make a fool, and be he a man weighted with the wisdom of years or an inexperienced youth, matters not to me. I am an indicator on the trend of mankind. I am of the sex that must preserve or destroy the home, which is the foundation upon which our civilization must stand or fall. I am the Flapper.—Ex.

Here and There

An Indian grave, discovered by accident by Canadian Pacific employees at work near Brooks, Alberta, last May, is considered by experts to be between 300 and 400 years old. It is thought the grave was originally above ground but the passage of centuries had buried the grave below the soil. An irrigation ditch was being constructed when the grave was discovered.

Tri-motored airplanes are being launched in one of the most spectacular fights in the history of aviation. War has been declared by the Canadian Government on the spruce bud worm and the airplane is to be the principal arm of the service. Planes each carry 1,600 pounds of powder, and will dust it while flying low, over the tree tops.

The blueberry industry is showing much improvement in Yarmouth and Shelburne counties, Nova Scotia. Last year there were only 4,000 acres of crown land burned for blueberry growing; this year 10,000 acres have been burned. Value of crop last year was $65,000 and it is estimated that the crop's value could be increased to half a million dollars.

The province of Alberta has adopted Old Age Pensions, the funds for which are provided by co-operation between the federal and provincial governments. The scheme has now been adopted by all Canadian provinces from the Quebec boundary westward.

Though crops in several parts of Western Canada would be benefited by rains, crop outlook on the whole is very promising. Reports from all parts of Saskatchewan are generally encouraging. The Alberta report is good, especially the Peace River country where present prospects indicate one of the best crops on record. About 25,000,000 acres are sown to wheat in Canada this year. Last year the Dominion harvested over 533,000,000 bushels of wheat, the largest crop in the country's history.

The fourth annual midsummer gathering of the Swedish-Canadian League held a two-day convention at Lac du Bonnet, Manitoba, recently and decided to build a home for Old Swedish folks at Winnipeg. Another feature of the gathering was a pageant of old Swedish folk-dancing and songs presented in old-time costumes. Many of the dancers were the same who appeared at the Regina festival held earlier in the year at the Saskatchewan hotel in that city.

A list of extraordinary accidents has recently been published occurring to motorists at level crossings and included the following:—One driver parked car on tracks and went to sleep. 44 motorists drove into the sides of moving trains. 38 drove into the sides of standing trains. One tried unsuccessfully to drive between railway cars while they were switching. Seven went for a drive along the tracks and met express trains. One driver left his car on the tracks while he went to search for something he had dropped on the road; when he returned there was nothing left of his car. Eleven found out too late that their brakes needed relining.

RUSSIAN REVOLT SHOWN IN BARRYMORE MOVIE

The outbreak of the Russian revolution a decade ago recently was re-enacted so realistically at the United Artists studio in Hollywood that residents thought the film city was being bombarded.

All afternoon and far into the night rifle and machine gun fire, shouts of thousands of people and the clatter of Cossacks as they rode through the streets of the motion picture Petrograd could be heard over an area of several blocks. At night the huge searchlights and flares used in the scene provided a pyrotechnical display that was visible for miles.

Hundreds of people, including some former members of the Russian cavalry who had fought in the late Czar's armies in the days before the revolution, were recruited for the spectacular action, part of John Barrymore's latest motion picture "Tempest," which will be shown at the Carbon Theatre on Friday and Saturday of this week.

Directed by Sam Taylor and photographed by Charles Rosher and a large staff of assistants, Barrymore's new picture numbers among its supporting players Louis Wolheim, Camilla Horn, the European star who was brought to Hollywood to appear in the chief feminine role; George Fawcett, Ulrich Haupt, Boris de Vass, Lena Malena and Albert Conti.

Three Young Women Plan Trip To Remote Places

Arrayed in trim khaki colored breeches and shirts, leather puttees and caps with badges on them, but also wearing lip rouge so they won't be mistaken for motor cycle cops, three young women have set out from New York in a light motor truck to "go places and see things" in remote corners of the earth.

They are heading for Alaska; the party consists of Baroness Christa Von Brandenstein; a movie actress, Miss Nada De Namur, and a girl reporter, Miss Margaret D'Angelo, Ottawa, Ont.

They're going to all the remote places they can find—partly, Miss De Namur confessed, in answer to a masculine challenge that women can't do that sort of thing; and partly on the theory, that, being more patient and painstaking than men, they'll find out a lot of "Gope" that the male explorers passed up.

"We're going as far north in Alaska as we can in the car. Then we hope to get an aeroplane ride and after that dog teams until we get away up where no white women have been before."

"And after that we're going to the Gobi desert, the wilds of Australia, Iceland and, oh, lots of places. We expect to circle the globe and get back in about three years."

An addition of over 25,000,000 bushels is in the course of being provided to elevator capacity in Canada this year, the additions being principally in Ontario and at Vancouver and Halifax. The projects are: Prescott, 5,500,000; Kingston, 5,000,000; Sarnia, 2,000,000; Midland, 2,000,000; Collingwood, 2,000,000; Port Colborne, 2,000,000; Goderich, 1,000,000, and 1,000,000; Owen Sound, 2,000,000; Vancouver, 3,000,000 and 1,000,000, and Halifax, 1,000,000.

Explanations and Comments

The Erection Of the Altar Of Burnt Offerings, Ezra 3.1-9.—The journey from Babylon must have required many months. The first work undertaken in the homeland was the building of houses and the tilling of ground. But as early as the seventh month after their return the altar of burnt offerings was rebuilt and there the offerings were sacrificed according to the law of Moses. In the second month of the second year after the return a start was made with the rebuilding of the temple. Money was contributed to pay the masons and carpenters, and furnish food and drink and oil to the men of Sidon and Tyre who brought cedar trees from Lebanon to Joppa on the coast, whence they were transported to Jerusalem.

The Foundation Of the Temple Laid, Ezra 3.10, 11.—The temple was to the Jews "what the Pyramids were to the Egyptians, the Parthenon to the Greeks, the Coliseum to the Romans, St. Peter's to the Latins—but it was more. It meant to the Jews what the flag means to you, what the Cross means to the Christian."—William S. Mitchell. The first temple was the work of King Solomon, and the people had been obliged to supply him with the necessary money and labor. The second temple was the work of the people themselves.

While the workmen laid the foundation, the priests in their official robes blew the trumpets, and the Levites sounded the cymbals in praise of the Lord as had been done in the time of David, saying, "For He is good; for His lovingkindness endureth for ever toward Israel." This realization of the goodness and mercy of God runs through Psalms 106, 107, 118 and 136. There were probably two choirs singing alternately. "In the 118th Psalm was originally appropriated to this occasion, it is easy to see with what force the two choral companies must have replied, in strophe and antistrophe: 'Open to me the gates of righteousness'; 'This is the gate through which the righteous shall enter'; or must have welcomed the foundation stone which, after all difficulty and opposition, had at last been raised on the angle of the rocky platform; or have uttered the formula which afterwards (Matthew 21.9), became proverbial for all such popular celebrations—'Hosanna! Save us.' 'Blessed be whosoever cometh in the name of the Eternal!'" — Dean Stanley.

SYNOPSIS

Marcus, the famous Broadway producer, visits Blackie Joe's New York night club, where he hears Al Stone, Blackie's singing waiter, render a love ballad of his own composition. Marcus offers to buy the song and Al consents on condition that the producer will hire Molly, his sweetheart, to sing the song in one of the Marcus revues. Marcus agrees. Molly treated Al disdainfully before that, because he was only a waiter, but now she makes up to him. Thus the night ends with two persons, Al and Molly, supremely happy. But there is sadness in the heart of Grace, the beautiful cigarette girl, for she is deeply in love with Al. She runs quickly home to hide her tears.

CHAPTER IX.

Time heals the sharpest wounds, say the philosophers. Perhaps, but the memory of the wounds may last a long, long time. Fortunate is the man or girl who has the strength to keep those memories from becoming bitter.

Grace Farrel, the cigarette girl at Blackie Joe's, was such a person. Al Stone and Molly Winton had left and become headliners on Broadway. As the weeks lengthened into months Grace heard reports of their achievements and saw their pictures in the papers. Al had become one of the outstanding song-writers of Tin-Pan-Alley; his melodious scores featured all the Marcus revues. His ballads and comic numbers had made him famous throughout America. Molly, true to Al's prediction, had become a headliner in the Marcus musical shows.

Once Grace begged time off from Blackie to see the outstanding Marcus show of the season. She had hoped Al would appear, but he didn't. However, Molly was there as one of the featured performers, singing Al's words and melodies. Grace, leaning forward in her first row gallery seat, had to admit Molly put the songs over well. Molly was deft, graceful, self-possessed, and she knew how to get the most from a song's variations.

"Perhaps I was wrong in thinking she couldn't make Al happy," mused Grace. "She certainly knows her business and she is awfully pretty."

Yes, Molly was pretty. Yet Grace's intuition told her, even from this distance, that there was something cold and calculating about her successful blonde rival. Her smile and gaiety made Grace distrust her.

But Grace caught herself up on these critical thoughts—perhaps, she reasoned, they came from jealousy. She determined to stifle them. They weren't fair to Molly.

Occasionally Al revisited Blackie Joe's and received congratulations from his old friends, but Molly never deigned to set foot in the place where she had started her climb up the ladder of fame. "That's Molly—too high-hat," murmured Blackie Joe to Grace in explanation.

Grace never forgot Al's first visit to Blackie's after Broadway had claimed him for its own. She was very busy with her cigarette tray, her head lowered, when a familiar voice inquired:

"How much the lot, Grace?"

Grace almost tipped the tray over in her astonishment and delight. There stood Al, resplendent in the latest cut of dinner coat, with the same happy, boyish smile, the same kindly eyes, the same white, even teeth.

Al leaned over, before Grace knew what he was about, and kissed her lightly on the cheek. It was merely a quick, friendly peck, with no hint of romantic feeling, but because she was unprepared, Grace blushed crimson. Al did not know that his careless gesture aroused afresh the profound love for him that had caused Grace sleepless nights and that she had managed to control only recently.

But in a moment she recovered herself completely, giving him a friendly smile to match his own. She was determined he should never know how he had, unwittingly, made her suffer.

"We're simply thrilled about your success, Al!" she exclaimed enthusiastically. "Blackie and I and the others here at the club talk of you often. You're a famous man, Al, and you'll be a rich man soon."

"Yes, I suppose so," Al replied, laughing. "It's awfully good or you to think of me."

But Grace thought she detected the faintest shadow cross his mouth.

"What's the matter, Al?" she inquired anxiously. "Isn't everything as you wished?"

"Oh, yes, Grace, everything's K. O.," answered Al.

Then he shook hands with the performers and, after a short talk with Blackie, vanished to the glittering uptown section—to visit Marcus in his palatial skyscraper office overlooking Broadway. They talked over the next revue.

"Well, Al, is genius burning? What price the new songs?"

"They're coming along swell," answered Al quickly. "I've got a South Sea number almost finished and I'm starting on a kid song. I think I'll call it 'Little Feller.' Like that title?"

"Sounds good," said the producer. "Can you let me see both next week?"

"Sure thing," said Al, and nervously rose to leave. He wanted to reach Molly's dressing room at the Manhattan Roof Theatre soon, for the show was just ending. But he also wanted to ask one question.

"How's Molly getting along Marcus?"

"Great! She's a fine little artist and the crowds take to her."

Al fairly beamed. He didn't care so much about his own success, but whenever anyone praised Molly a happy glow stole over him. His wife was still his dream girl. But now Marcus said a strange thing.

"Everything's all right between you and Molly?"

"Oh, surely! Everything's perfect. Why do you ask?"

"Oh, nothing—but you know in show business, where partners in marriage are both headliners there's often dissension. You and Molly are unusual that way."

Marcus gave a mysterious little smile and Al moved toward the door. "Molly's the one who's unusual—she's perfect!" said Al, and disappeared through the door.

He wondered what Marcus meant by that mysterious smile, but dismissed it from his mind as he rode down in the elevator. Then he turned the corner, ran across the street, and entered another elevator to be whirled aloft to the Manhattan Roof. He found Molly in her dressing room, garbed for the street, chatting with John Perry.

John Perry was Al's best friend and a peculiar individual. The most peculiar thing about him was his mysterious source of income. He never seemed to work, yet he had plenty of money and spent it freely. Along the White Way they called him a racketeer and said he controlled the illicit distribution of contraband liquor in a district peppered with high class night clubs.

Physically he was decidedly prepossessing, being tall and dark. When Molly and Al had first arrived on Broadway, John Perry had sung their praises and done them many little favors. Al, who liked everybody, had taken a decided fancy to John and had frequently talked over his songs with the debonaire racketeer. Molly hadn't seemed to like John so much at first, but lately his charm of manner had won her over, and her attitude had been quite friendly.

Perry jumped up the moment Al entered and proffered his hand.

"Well, Al, old top, I've been visiting Molly. Hope you don't object."

"Not at all," Al dismissed the suggestion with a laugh and a wave of the hand. "I like Molly to meet other men. And you know, John, I regard you as one of my best friends."

John Perry raised his glance toward the ceiling, shrugged his shoulders, but did not answer.

"Shall we go, Al?" said Molly quickly and rather nervously. "I've been waiting for you some time."

"Sure, right away, I was detained talking to Marcus about the new show. I have arranged for you to have the pick of the songs. Where shall we go—to a club or home?"

"Let's go home, Al. I'm tired."

As they left the dressing room Al went first down the narrow corridor. He did not see Perry give Molly's hand a surreptitious squeeze as she followed.

Plucky Navigator Not Daunted By Nerve-Racking Experience

A young fellow sailed from Boston for France in a 116-foot open boat equipped with an outboard motor. His chief asset, says the Associated Press dispatch, appeared to be pluck.

Pluck, plus; we should say. What nerve such an undertaking requires! Yet there are plenty of men who have it. We recall in particular Capt. Howard Blackburn, of Gloucester, who once tried the Atlantic crossing alone in an 18-foot sail boat. Off the Grand Banks a storm came up. The exhausted navigator finally threw out a drag to keep the boat's head in the wind and crept into his cabin for a nap. A wave came aboard that threatened to sink the vessel, and that jammed the sliding door to the cabin so that for a time Blackburn couldn't shove it open to let himself out.

"How did you feel?" he was asked. "Well," he replied, "it seemed so ridiculous that I should die that way that I just laughed out loud."

Little Helps For This Week

"And the Lord shall guide thee continually, and satisfy thy soul in drought."—Isaiah lviii. 11.

My Shepherd is the Lord my God, There is no want I know; His flocks He leads in verdant meads Where tranquil waters flow.

He doth restore my fainting soul With His divine caress, And when I stray He points the way To paths of righteousness.

—Eugene Field.

Through every step in life the Shepherd offers to guide us, if we will but hear His voice and follow Him. He never promises smooth paths, but He does promise safe ones. If we follow Him we may find the steepest cliff "a path of pleasantness," and the lowest value of humiliation as a highway to peace.

—Theodore L. Cuyler.

New Association For Canada

A number of firms interested in aeronautics are forming an association under the title of "Canadian Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce." The decision was made following a meeting of 35 aircraft representatives in Montreal, who were present in the city in connection with the aircraft show. By-laws of the new association have been drawn up, tentatively, and matters of organization planned and outlined. Incorporation is now being sought.

Miller's Worm Powders were devised to promptly relieve children who suffer from the ravages of worms. It is a simple preparation to destroy stomachic and intestinal worms without shock or injury to the most sensitive system. They act thoroughly and painlessly, and though in some cases they may cause vomiting, that is an indication of their powerful action and not of any nauseating property.

Citizens Of Boise, Idaho, Supplied From Hot Wells

Heating problems have been solved for 200 home owners of Boise, Idaho, who have natural hot water piped into their faucets, it is stated by E. E. Smith, vice-president and general manager of the Boise Water Corporation, in an article in the July issue of the Professional Engineer, monthly organ of the American Association of Engineers. The water comes from the Hot Wells, several miles east of town.

An acre of quagmire was noticed to be warm and never covered by snow in winter. Several men decided to prospect for water and after digging 400 feet found a good flowing supply of hot water. They dug another well, and the two produce 800,000 gallons a day. The water's temperature is around 170 degrees.

NEWS OF ALBERTA

The site for the test well has been spotted about three miles northwest of the town, on the south side of the Old Man river. This structure has long been considered promising.

Twenty carloads of wheat were shipped recently from Turin. Most of this came from the Noble farm on the old Cameron ranch; but others are beginning to combine, and Turin is expected to become a heavy shipping point this season.

MANY CHANGES IN 1929
HIGH SCHOOL CURRICULUM

High school students in Alberta will do work on a somewhat different basis hereafter, beginning with the new fall term.

Changes in the curriculum have been decided upon and are now being incorporated in the regulations for 1929-30. They are the outcome of a review of the present curriculum by a special committee appointed for the purpose some months ago.

No change will be made in the number of units required for junior matriculation and entrance to Normal for the second class certificate.

The survey revealed the fact that several of the units are properly weighted at the present time, but a considerable number need lightening, and that some four or five require stiffening up.

The following units remain unchanged: Composition 1 and 4; History 1; Algebra 1 and 2; French 1; Agriculture 1; Household economics 1 and 2; Manual arts 1 and 2; Geography 1; Arithmetic 1.

The following units have been increased in difficulty: Composition 2; Agriculture 2; History of English Literature, Chemistry 2; Biology 1.

The following units have been lightened: All four literature units have had the amount of memory-work reduced. Composition 3 has a new shortened text book for the grammar section. In Geometry 1 and 2 little used propositions have been omitted. In Geometry 3 there is a new text which follows in detail the outline in the course of study. In Algebra several chapters have been omitted.

The work in general science and chemistry 1 has been made more specific. In Latin 1 the amount of grammar required has been reduced and in Latin 2 prose has been subjected for poetry. French 2 has been lightened by reducing the number of irregular verbs required and dropping the Ontario reader. Work both in Art 1 and 2 has been simplified and made more definite.

Certain changes have been made in the three units of German and Physics 1, which will reduce them slightly. History 2, 3, and 4 have all been appreciably shortened. Certain highly technical sections have been dropped from physics 2 and trigonometry 1. Required reading in Latin 3 has been reduced.

A preacher who went to a Kentucky parish was asked to invite the prayers of the congregation for Lucy Grey. He did so; they prayed three Sundays for Lucy Grey. On the fourth he was told that he need not do it any more. "Why?" said the preacher, "Is she dead?" "No," answered the man, "she has won the Derby."

Who Does Your Printing?

All business houses need more or less printed matter, all of which is within the possibilities of the local printer. Yet how prone many are to pass up the home printer and let the orders go to city offices which have no interest whatever in rural communities except to get printing orders and the cash to pay for them. Business men, remember that the home paper is constantly promoting the interests of the home community and you owe it to yourself and your local paper to back up these efforts by at least having your printed matter done locally.
